

Qolcom Architect

Strategic consulting, technical, and advisory professional services to design, build and execute your blueprint to complete enterprise mobility

OVERVIEW

The rapid advancement of mobile devices, Wi-Fi systems, applications, software and business models create great opportunities for you to maximise the potential of connected lives in your organisation. Qolcom Architect empowers your business vision through expert consulting on your mobility blueprint. It enables you and your organisation to stay ahead of the competition, charting your path to complete enterprise mobility and providing the tools to achieve your goals.

Qolcom Architect offers three services depending on the needs of your business: strategic consulting through mobility workshops, enabling your organisation to jumpstart the creation of your mobility program. This includes mobile strategy, a mobility blueprint and a mobility business case framework; technical professional services whereby expert Qolcom technicians conduct on-site visits or remote sessions to complete installations, training, and other deeply technical mobility tasks; and expert advisory services providing on-going guidance around various mobile topics including mobile policy, security, Wi-Fi, applications and BYOD.

Strategic Consulting: strategic collaboration on the mobility topics that matter most to your business

Professional Services: technical services delivered from expert Qolcom technicians
